

To Whom it May Concern,

In regards to allowing cell phone use onboard an aircraft in flight, please take the following into consideration:

- There is no hard evidence that cell phone use doesn't interfere with navigational instruments.
- Cell phone use would enable terrorists to coordinate a plan of action more effectively.
- The NPRM would leave it up to flight attendants to police the use of cell phones onboard the aircraft compromising our ability to maintain a safe, secure cabin environment and to conduct emergency evacuations.
- It would make an already tense cabin environment even more stressful.

Passengers have told me they would be very upset and annoyed if they had to listen to a fellow customer talk and ask "Can you hear me now?" over and over again.

PLEASE do NOT allow cell phones to be used onboard aircrafts.

Thank you.

Susan Laker
United Flight Attendant